Decreasing the difference of current payment levels and 90% of the EU-average by 1/3 until 2020

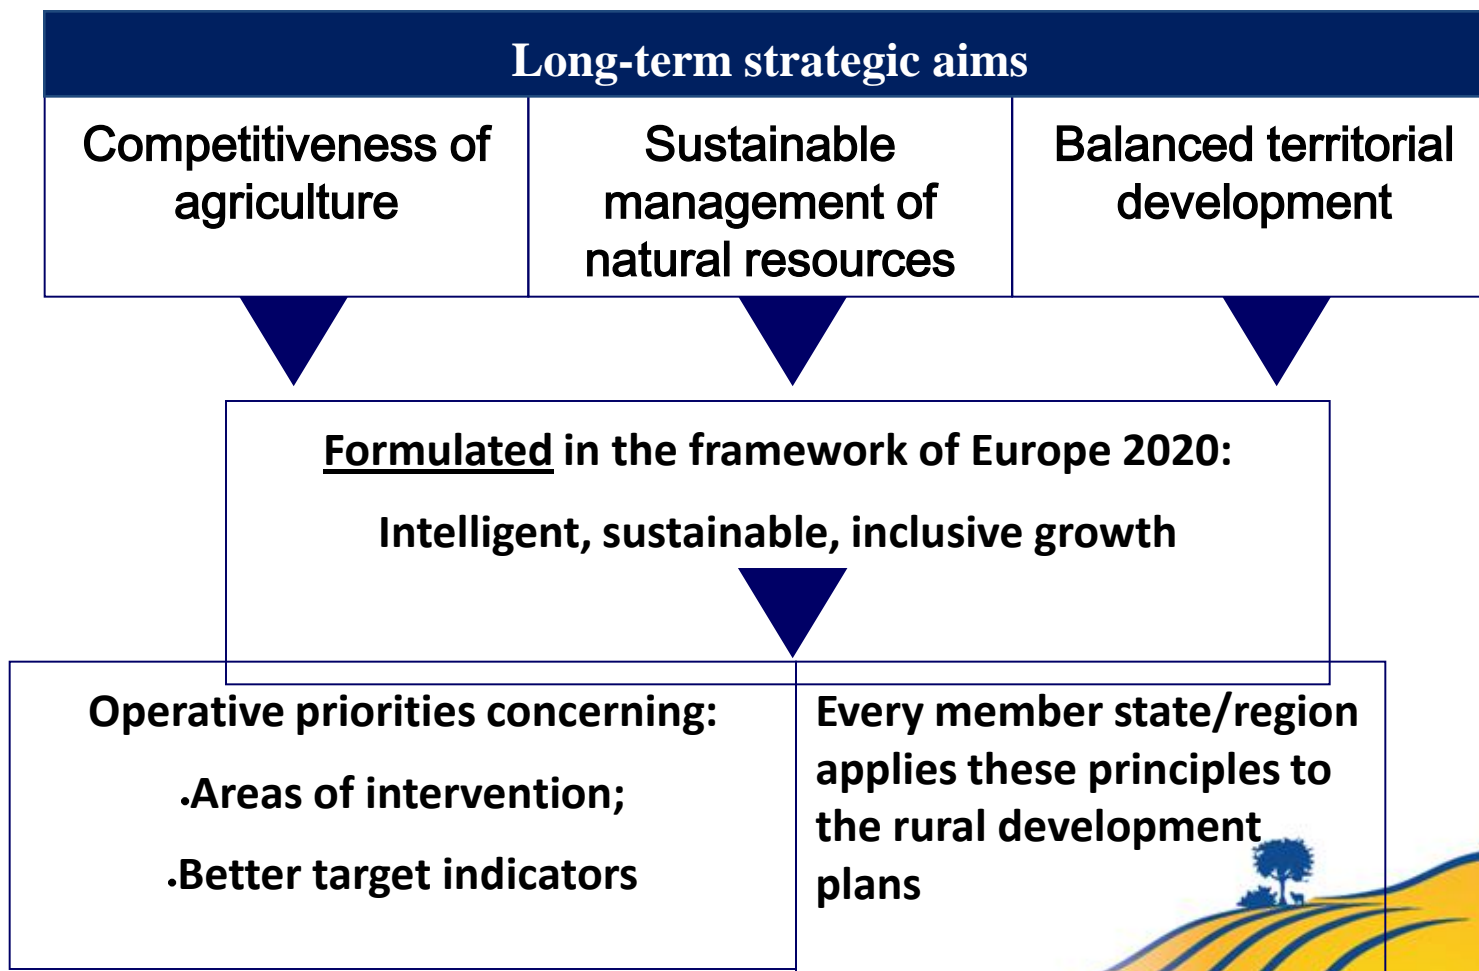

Forrás. Európai Bizottság

The Commission tried to level the amount of former differences. The basis for this was 90% of the EU-average: countries getting more than that could get less by one-third of the difference, and those that are getting less can expect more by one-third of the difference.

Goals of the rural development policy

New elements of rural development

- Rural development system will be transformed; an essential change is that rural development support will be „under one framework” with structural funds.
- In order to provide flexibility, axis-based division would be abolished.
- Member states could select from a package of twenty measures, in which they could create thematic sub-programmes.
- LEADER would be a programme supported by more funds (European Social Fund, European Regional Development Fund).

The 10 points defining the programmes of Common Agricultural Policy between 2014- 2020

1. More effective subsidies to boost growth and job creation.
2. More effective and quickly activatable crisis managing tools.
3. „Green” payments for sustainability and the protection of ecological systems.
4. High support for research and development activities.
5. Creating more competitive and balanced supply chains.

The organisational structure of the project's implementation

HNRN co-operation in planning

How can HNRN assist planning?

- The Hungarian National Rural Network (HNRN) is built both vertically and horizontally regarding its organisational operation, therefore it can assist the planning of a versatile Hungarian rural development and its international embeddedness primarily with providing informational services.
- Five levels can be distinguished in the HNRN's bottom-up built organisational structure:
  - At the base level, active members of the villages and small towns
  - Second is the subregional level
  - Counties are at the third level
  - HNRN Sections at the fourth level
  - HNRN's Presidency and Council is at the fifth level
- MAVIFIR, the Hungarian Rural Development Informational System that needs to be constantly developed and will strive for a unified and common appearance, will be decisively important from the perspective of both vertical and horizontal structure.
